

Increased Sales Opportunities in the Business Market

Do you have business owners on your customer list? If so, discuss the benefits of covering their key employees with a term life insurance policy.

HOW KEY PERSON INSURANCE WORKS

- Protects the business, financially, from the loss of revenue and increased expenses, in the event of death of an owner and/or key employee.
- The business pays the premium, and is the owner and beneficiary of a life insurance policy insuring the key employee.
- Upon death, the business receives the death benefit, generally income-tax free.¹

By purchasing a life insurance policy on the key person, the business can use the death benefit to help offset the cost of recruiting and training the new employee, along with any lost revenues or profits.

CHALLENGE Mark owns a business that depends heavily on its sales team. His top salesperson, Renee, brings in over 35 percent of the total annual sales revenue. Mark realizes the company could be in jeopardy if something were to happen to Renee.

SOLUTION He meets with his financial professional and discusses options that could help him add an additional level of financial security.

His financial professional uses the Key Person calculator from The Principal to help identify the appropriate level of coverage needed for Mark's situation, and they decide on the following:

- ✓ $700,000 death benefit – Determined amount based on the size of the organization, Renee's annual income of $100,000 and the level of difficulty of replacing her.
- ✓ 20-Year Term – Using a term policy allows Mark to tailor the length of coverage based on Renee's estimated employment timeframe of an additional 15- 20 years.
- ✓ Accelerated Underwriting² – Streamlines the underwriting process, which provides an unexpected convenience for both the key employee and financial professional.

By doing this, Mark adds a layer of protection and peace-of-mind for him and the success of his business.
